DEDICATION

“The dream begins, most of the time, with the teacher who believes in you, who tugs and pushes and leads you to the next plateau, sometimes poking you with a sharp stick called truth.”

—D. Rather

Varsity coaching abilities, debonair fashion sense, and a full head of hair are not the first thoughts that come into mind when one thinks of this person. Instead, with the class of 2004 and so many others, this person is noted for guiding and advising with clever brilliance. Not only is he wonderful to his own children, but also to us. His light-hearted humor is known to add a smile to any situation and his opinion is always welcomed and respected. He constantly inspires us with his genuine interest in the oddest of habits and greatest of traits. He knows us not by our grammatical weaknesses, but by our aspirations and interests. His willingness and modesty have made him a part of our lives, and us a part of his. He continues to help us cross our t's, dot our i's, and watch our p's and q's. These qualities and many more are what make the recipient of this honor so admirable. Thank you, Mr. Ogden, for aiding us in countless ways and for making our individual experiences at GDA memorable. We owe our successes to you and we hope that the 2004 Milestone dedication expresses the exceptional gratitude we feel towards you.

Editor's

Throughout my four years at GDA, I have never met anyone quite like this person. As a dorm parent, advisor, and most of all, as a friend, she has helped me through all of the ups and downs that GDA seems to provide. She does this in a truly selfless manner. She is always thinking about what will make other people happy, whether it is making us little notes when we don't have advisor meeting, or having a group advisor weekend to escape everything. She constantly puts others before herself. When I need to talk, she listens. When I need to cry, she comforts me. When everything seems to be going the wrong way, she is there to tell me differently, and make me smile. Every time I see her, I get a warm feeling inside and think about how lucky I am to be able to be with her. As she once wrote on a note, "always aim for the moon and the stars," she has taught me to reach for my dreams and push myself to be the best person that I can be. I don't know what I would have done if she wasn't a part of my life, and I am truly going to miss her when I graduate. Even though I won't see her every day, I know that if I ever need her, she will always be there for me. I thank you for all you have done for me at GDA and know that our friendship will not stop here.

Recognition

This person thoughtfully observes every doing and happening on this campus. His teaching is filled with passion, devotion, and interest that is contagious. He challenges you to discover exactly how you want to view the world and encourages you to find what it is you want to say. His wisdom allows him to easily recognize talent and foster it to uncharted levels. In addition, he posses countless more amazing attributes that are truly invaluable and often unrecognized because of the generosity he continually conducts himself with. Although he has a very relaxed nature, he dedicates himself fully until flawless perfection is achieved. He also greets any challenge with remarkable cleverness and unyielding patience. His actions continually surpass all expectations and warrant him to be viewed with great admiration. In doing this, he has become an inspiration to me. He has intently listened to my every story, concern, and thought. He has also supported me in making any and every idea into an actuall creation as well as always helping me in anyway imaginable. Thank you for teaching me to see like a photographer, think like an artist, and articulate myself as a professional. You have made an incedible difference in my life. I can't thank you enough and look forward to remaining in touch past my time at GDA.

Mom & Dad- Thanks for all your love and support the last eighteen years! I don't think I could ask for more caring, loving, and encouraging parents. Mom- thanks for being my nurse, chauffeur, personal shopper, guidance counselor, #1 fan, and friend. Dad- thanks for the long drives all over New England for basketball- you are the best coach I've ever had (I'll beat you at 21 one of these days!) Kristen, the best sister I could ask for- I think you're the only person who understands exactly how my mind works and what I'm thinking. Thanks for putting up with the random "Sarah specials." Kate (Shans), my best friend- I've known you forever and can't imagine going through college not having you next to me. Who else am I going to play javanoid and waste time with? Maybe we can actually make conversation with "people" next year. Make sure to watch out for squirrel and man and "don't forget to bring the statues of ourselves." Rachel - You were one of the first friends I made at GDA. Thanks for Kermie at the Frog Pond, playing 3rd lacrosse (wow!), and co-managing softball. Thanks for listening to my stupid jokes and making me laugh. Always remember the "drooly spoon" Maura - "I could cut the cheese all day (real cheese)." Just keep gellin'! You're a great friend. You never ceased to make me laugh hysterically. Melissa (BC Huge Scooter)- Thanks for being "preppy" with me. You are such an awesome person for putting up with all my abuse. You rock my socks! Never forget our driving adventures. Honorary Portuguese Pride and Greek member! Katherine (Papi)- Thanks for being a friend/co-editor. We had so much fun drawing and going nuts together. Make sure to style your hair "avec mousse." Jessie- I still don't think I've mastered the hip-hop culture quite yet, but I'm working on the whole "crunked" thing. Thanks for being a great teammate and an even greater friend. To Rachel D., Anya, Anjali, Julie, Erin, Lainey Loo, Jen, Jessie C., and Chris- Thanks for being such funny and terrific friends. I enjoyed spending time with you all and am going to miss seeing you! Cassie - Don't forget our b-ball motto. I'm coming back to see ya! Samel - I know I give you a hard time, but I consider you a good friend. To Mr. Gettings, Mr. Brace, Mr. V and to all my teachers who have helped me along the way- Thank you! I am so lucky to have gotten to know you all. First, I would like to start by thanking my mom and dad whom I truly love, without you guys none of this would have been possible. You guys supported me throughout my GDA career and encouraged me to give it my best, and take advantage of what a great opportunity I had here at GDA. Thank you so much. Thanks for making it happen. I would also like to thank all my teachers for the excellent education they provided me with. Although you guys gave me tons of homework, HOPEFULLY it will all pay off in the end. And a special thanks to Mr. Robertson, you really helped me a lot throughout my time here, especially junior year with editing all my papers, and by just listening to what I had to say. And Mr. Kravchuck, thanks for being my advisor, I really enjoyed our informative advisor meetings, without them my life would have never been the same. And don't worry I'm all set as long as your all set. Mr. Suggs, Mrs. Suggs, Mr. Weir and Mr. Suefert thank you all for being my dorm parents, I truly had a good time. Mom & Dad: What can I say? You guys have helped me through the last 19 years. I can say that you two are two of my best friends, and I thank you for that. The last four years you have shown nothing but support and love, and I owe you guys everything. I love you both.

Freddie: You're a typical older brother. I learned a lot from you, even if some of what I learned was what I shouldn't do, because that probably helped me more in the end. You're going to be an awesome father, your daughter is lucky. P.J.: You're possibly the cockiest person that I've ever known, but you deserve it. You're an unbelievable athlete, and you've done things that I would never dream of doing. Keep on doing what you're doing and you'll go far. Good luck with school next year and make sure you keep our room in shape next year when I'm gone. Roslyn & Tia: I know we don't get along all the time, but you guys are still my sisters and I love you both. You helped me with everything and I never said thank you enough times for you to actually know I appreciated everything you did for me. THANK YOU! I'd also appreciate a new Mustang Cobra for graduation. Alicia: Even though you're the biggest hippy I know, and I'm not proud of the fact that you're related to me, I still love you, just because I'm that great of guy. Angie: Thanks for sending me money...I like money. And thanks for being a good sister even though I never see you. Will: You're dirty, you steal things, you're mean to people AND you've never encouraged me in making any good decisions...you've been the constant reminder of how I should not live my life, but, you still my bes' bro son, yeeahh. Beech: It was surprising coming here and seeing you again after not knowing where you had been for like 10 years, but at least we got a chance to chill, and have you shoot me in the face at point blank range with a paintball gun. Kerri O: I'm gonna be wicked sad to leave you...we've been together since the beginning of time, almost. It's time to quit playing the sax because without you it's not the same anymore. Toby: Stop wearing those purple and pink shirts, people will start wondering about you. Les: Thanks for being the most optimistic, good-hearted, fun, awesome, cheerful, bright person that you are, cuz your attitude really made a difference. I hope your life is peachy. Curran/Christian/Matt/Greg: I'm not a black hole, I'm really good at basketball when I try and I could take any of you guys whenever I wish and still win. And Greg, you still owe me for all the help I gave you in English. Z: Your name still makes me laugh and I'm still beating you...I will always be better than you at everything. Dante: I can't really say goodbye seeing your going to college with me next year. I look forward to you doing my work for me. I'll still be your friend when nobody likes you. Tim C.: I never said those things, you gotta admit you've said worse...I love all normal and not normal people...and that girl deserved what she got...nobody should yell at me. Ian: Remind me...what is again? 2-0? Yeah that's right. Call me white trash but I still shamelessly kicked your ass...twice. Danielle A.: If you would jus chill you'd be so much happier. Cammie: HEY BEST BUDDY! Or maybe you prefer to be called fatty. Drew + Cutrell: Drew, comb your damn hair forward, for me, at least once...Ben, I own you. DJ + HJ: Your tireless efforts at being huge slackers were a great part of my motivation. And my name isn't Clarence either. Jill P.: Too bad we're leaving...you always used to be the only person I had any competition against ever since like 3rd grade. We'll just call the whole thing a draw. Mic: The last few years when we actually hung out were fun...sorry some things never really worked out for you, but meh, its ok anyways.

Stirling Winder

So here is that chapel speech I never gave in 600 words or less... While recently sitting through another long drawn out graduation, it seemed every speaker had a different excerpt from the overused book "Everything I need to know I learned in Kindergarten." I have to admit, I struggle to believe this could possibly be very true or hold any knowledgeable weight. I'm still not very good at sharing, apologizing for my mistakes, or even tying my shoes and although I have made it far past my kindergarten years I'm convinced my greatest learning never occurred in a classroom filled with five year olds. Instead, the environment in which I have learned the most has been the barn (no surprise, I know). Although every lesson has always been accompanied by a remarkable story or experience, I believe the punch line to each one holds enough advice to stand alone. As a result, from my past 18 years of riding, I have consolidated the top, most outstanding, moments into five lines that serve to prove why riding is like life-or at least can teach you some great things to never forget along the way. 1.) Certainly, the first and most important is to always go forth and conquer. Be the person you admire, do the things you think you can't. Never stop trying or sell yourself short. The greatest and most serving qualities are perseverance and the confidence to attain anything you desire. 2.) Do something that scares you everyday. Maybe not to the extent of jumping out of planes or wild and crazy rock climbing, but something that challenges you to push your comfort zone. Something that makes your knees go weak and your pulse race. Something your inhibitions tell you not to do. Eventually, such doings will create a substantial feeling of achievement-not to mention they will also make your life a whole lot more exciting. 3.) Having given the afore mentioned advice, it is also important to offer a cautionary additive-regardless of what you are doing in any situation, it is crucial to always consider all of the ramifications before being cute or funny. A line delivered as the culmination to an extensive lecture several years ago, it continues to serve well-and thoroughly as it can be applied to any event. 4.) Next, it's critical to know that Even the most wayward paths can be straitened out. No matter how many wrong turns you take, bad choices you make, or missed opportunities you witness, it is never impossible to get back on track. 5.) And of course, always remember your going to have those tough falls. Its inevitable-you are going to be knocked down at least once or twice in your life. However, although a slightly cliché recommendation, you consistently have to brush the dirt of your knees and get back up. The sooner you do, the sooner you will find yourself back in the game. Without the horse, coach, and presented challenges I have had, it is possible these morsels of knowledge may present themselves in a new way. However, consider them. They have all been adapted, forgotten and remembered, over quoted, and of course passed on. In the end, these five things continue to assist me past the fence line of the barn and into the arena of life. I hope you can find some semblance of guidance that seems noteworthy as I promise it will certainly prove rewarding. Thank you so much for the unforgettable memories, extraordinary friendships, and thoughtful advice. Most of all, thanks for taking a New Mexico girl and making her an East Coast Kid. Keep on Kickin'- Xoxo alex

Mom and Dad: Thank you so much for your love and support through these sometimes hard but good years. Your smiling faces in the halls of the theatre or on the paths of campus will stay with me. Thank you for only being a call away when I really needed you. Sometimes your voices were all I ever needed. Don't worry I'm still your baby. Brent: Not always the most outwardly loving person ever, but I love you very much. Thank you for the smiles and the annual hug. It really does mean a lot. Laine: I don't know what I would have done without you. You have been my strong hold. If I ever had a problem I could always just come to you and you would know how to fix it. You will never know how much that has meant to me. I love you so much. Jessie: Oh my God I will miss you soooo much! I will miss the wrestling, the cuddling, and the pure love. Thank you so much for all of the support and love. "To all whom hath helped me throughout mine years, I thank thee. Though I cannot seatest you all at this table, thou doth know who thy is. I shall loveth you till my last day, and remember you always. Now passith the bread."

Erin, The Book of Dummer, 5.30.2004

"There is no beginning to the story. A bookshelf sinks into the sand and a language learned and forgot, in turn, is studied once again. It's a shocking bit of footage viewed from a shitty TV screen. You can squint through snowy static to make out the meaning. Just keep on stretching the antennae, hoping that it will come clear. We need some reception, a higher message, just tell us what to fear. Because I don't know what tomorrow brings. It is alive with such possibilities. All I know is I feel better when I sing. Burdens are lifted from me, that is my voice rising! So Michael, please keep the tape rolling. Boys keep strumming those guitars. We need a record of our failures. We must document our love, I have sat too long in my silence. I have grown too old in my pain. To shed this skin, be born again, it starts with an ending. So thank you friends for the time we shared. My love stays with you like sunlight and air. Oh how I truly wish I could keep hanging around here but my joy is covering me. Soon, I will disappear. It's not a movie, no private screening. This method acting, well, I call that living. It's like a fountain, a door has been opened. We have a problem with no solution but to love and to be loved. So, I've made peace with the falling leaves. I see their same fate in my own body. But I won't be afraid when I am awoken from this dream and returned to that which gave birth to me. And the story goes on and on and on and on... ~Bright Eyes "Method Acting" Every single minute and every single person who touched my life here means the world to me. Thank you for making this a life altering and Laine altering experience. To Jessie, Erin, Alex, Anjali, Julie, Ashlee, Chris, Schumann Kids, Advisor Group, JV tennis, JV hockey, Varsity Drama, Maddie, Maura, Danielle, Ashley, Jen, Elvinson, Dante, Ari, Katherine, Melissa, Kate, Cassandra, Sarah, Rachel, Robin, Rachel D., Jessie L. and Anya: Friends like you come once in a lifetime and only to those who are most fortunate. I consider myself so lucky that you came into my world and made it such a beautiful place. To Marisa: Stay strong, stay sweet and stay beautiful. I love you and can't wait to see what you're going to do next. To mom: Thanks for never giving up on me, even though I made it awfully easy to do sometimes. Thank you for giving me this opportunity to grow from what I was into who I am. To dad: Thank you for believing in me and always coming back to remind me how much fun life can be. You taught me how to see life as the grand adventure I plan to make it. To Mike, Laurie, Ben, Damon, Lisa, Tia, Greg and Paige: Every one of you has changed my life and broadened my definition of family. Thank you so much for being there for me and always putting a smile on my face. To Mr. Ogden, Teacher, Mr. Karin, Mrs. Hamovit, Mr. Wann and Mr. Seufert: I have learned so much from all of you, inside and outside of the classroom. Thank you for always supporting me and being an inspiration everyday. These 600 words are not enough for me to convey everything I wish I could say. If you want to remember us look back on these four years, not this page, and smile with me.

Mom and Dad – You have always been there for me and I could not have asked for anything more. I love you so much. Aleks – You have more in you than you know. Believe in yourself. We'll mess up that guy's lawn this summer, I promise. Ryan – Costa Rica, Schmoogling, SUSC, and dawn patrol, just to name a few. It would not have been the same without you. I'll see you this summer. JSweet – It's definitely called a spinning jenny. Thank you for being my minimus. Good luck next year and come visit so I can get you that sweatshirt. Linds – You owe me ten bucks. But don't worry, I don't expect you to pay me till I'm 70 because this is just the beginning of the next stage. Jay – Here's to the best steak and one of my favorite people. "Tell me you love me!" "shhhhhh!!" DJ – one of these days we will get you up on a surfboard. And it's ok that you went to the bathroom five times that night. I understand... Matty – My favorite grade grubber. You're such a cliché. I win again. Christian – I'm sorry I always take your money, kind of. Solomon – I'll see you next year big guy. Donny – I hate playing golden tee with you, but you're a great kid. Keep an eye on Ryan next year for me. Nick – we were an untouchable team in the classroom. Keep up the hard work next year. Sayer – you'll always be mi propio Jesus. Brit – It's been a bit shaky but you're still one of the wittiest people I know. Kerri – I'll never forget that one day we sat out by the river. You're the only person I could stay up all night talking about Tupperware with. Don't change. Ashley – walking in your shoes (literally) has changed me. I would not have wanted to do morning meetings with anyone else. Clunie and Quigley – you two are some of the best people I have ever met. Dasny – something about a stairway in cottage? Jillian – you may never have won an argument, but I appreciate all the attempts. Cegs – UNH will always be better than BC. Thanks for the mac and cheese. Dogget – we've come a long way since ping-pong freshman year. Best of luck to you. Becky – it's definitely summertime now and it's here to stay! Finally! Ogden – Hit the weights. Thanks for all your help. McLain – keep charging old-timer. Mrs. McLain – thanks for putting up with two more sons this past year. V – you're one of the nicest guys I've ever met. Thanks for being my advisor. Nelly – you still owe me about 7 milk shakes. I'll come claim them later on in life. Stay in touch. Gettings – You call yourself a math teacher but I consider you my friend. No seriously.

Mom and Dad I can't thank you enough for the doors that you have opened for me in my life, I owe my entire GDA experience to you and your support for me in all aspects of my life has never wavered.

Your guidance has shaped me into the individual I am today and for that I am truly thankful. I love you. Tiff you've always been a great little sister and I hope you have enough sense to not make the same mistakes I did, or at least not get caught as often. Enjoy these years while you can! Jon I have always looked to my older bro for some good advice and a good time. You have provided both and have shown me a brief glimpse of how I want my life to be. Much love, to you, Colene, and Olivia. Matty despite your total lack of social skills we managed to have some crazy times together. I'm grateful to have a friend like you, however ridiculous you may be, and I can only hope that you finally come out of your shell at Emory next year. Sporty just remember, no matter what, you and I are always right. You're a great guy, just try not to flip out and kill someone when they call you Tiger Woods. Donny Somehow country grew on me; I hope to tee it up with you well into the future. Tim slick, ace, you're a dick, but that doesn't hide the fact that you're a great friend plus a hatred for social activities and an obsession with the Wendy's menu no one can match. Greg My partner in being left out of everything, it's been great being your friend. Jarid You're the cockiest kid I've met next to... Pelletier, but you can back it up (some of the time), soccer was a blast and for every time you beat me at culo I took you down in Golden Tee. Tomaino Hold 'em was a highlight of the year. You're the heart and soul of the 2:40 tee-time, you bring the intensity, I respect that. Dan & Zack Try to look past the tension and lead the golf squad next year, two good guys I hope to know well into the future. Pelletier Dealing with you and Jarid on the pitch was always a struggle but you're a good guy, it's been real. Doggett Nacho, best I can put it, you're a good man. Katherine Your a great person (and a perfect student) Jill Truly too much for words, our time together was never dull. Katie You're such a kag. Teddy I'll let the brick-throwing slide, try to ease up on the gas too man. Curran I wish it could've ended better, but I can't deny that we had a blast, whether we got caught for what we actually did or the modified version of it. Brad Good luck at Vandy. Moon & Mr. C You are two fine leaders and it has been a pleasure to know you as more than coaches. Your love of the game for all its nuances has truly made my time out on the course incredibly enjoyable. Those of you who it has been a pleasure to know; Majed, Ian, DJ, Sarah, Gallagher, Sayer, Mauritz, Dante, Dempsey, APJ, Doug, Jay, Jenna, , Kerri, Moira, Elvinson, Black Hole, Nils, Amanda, Roux, Gettings, Nelly, Mrs. Okula, Ms. Stickney, Mr. McClain, Mrs. Adams-Wall, Bao, McCullough, Mr. Robertson, Mr. Karin, Doc Brayshaw, Mrs. Guy, Ms. Keegan, Mr. Quigley. Enjoy each moment you have here because they pass quickly. Mom and Dad- Thank you for everything- the support, the driving, the tuition. I couldn't have done it without you. I love you. Marisa- You didn't come to GDA but it didn't matter. You're a great little sister and you work harder than anyone I know. Behave while I'm in Atlanta. I love you. Christian- I got nothing to say you. I'll be seeing you everyday for the next four years. Room 311 will be the most dominant on campus. Greg- You were the only kid I knew coming in here. I carried you through pre-school and led our PLBA teams. We survived the carpool, Lander in the morning, and the silent drives in the Explorer. Wherever you end up in college, I know we will end up visiting each other. You can thank me for the prom date later. Sporty- We never really got close until you made that pathetic attempt to play golf sophomore year. You shot a couple 58's, somehow made the team, and then the rest is obvious. You became one of my best friends and always will be. We were a crazy duo on the golf course and I'll never forget the Florida golf trips. Jarid- You honestly brought my GPA up a good full point. From grades to Golden Tee, we pretty much competed in everything and even though I always won, I know you still had a good time. Good luck at Cornell and I'll get you that sweatshirt before you leave. Donny- I didn't try to hide that I hated you junior year. Somehow though, despite your plaid shorts and annoying laugh, we really couldn't have been much closer this year. We weren't a bad a 1-2 punch on the golf team, even though the positions should have been switched around. Tim- Arguably the most miserable person I've ever met, we somehow spent most of our Saturday nights together. We were a good team in math and you know you will never forget my sayings. Curran- I got no idea how to describe it. All I know is I'll never forget some of the ridiculous times we had. We were always the two that couldn't be controlled, whether it was Boston or the movie theatre or laser quest. Sorry again about that wine bottle. Nick- My back's a little sore from carrying you through calculus. I'll never forget the poker and the golden tee. Teddy- We pulled off some crazy stunts this year. Dan and Zack- As sad as it sounds, it's pretty much your team next year. Try not to kill each other. Sayer- I don't know how we weren't at a radio station this spring. We had some good times during the JV days. Gallagher- You can owe me for the car some other time. We had a pretty sweet golf season. Katie- We had pretty much every class together over four years. Try not to be such a Kag in college. Bryson- Didn't we use to hate each other? We had some good times and don't forget to invite me to that country club. Grub Club- Sorry we never met. Amy- You can be grub club pres. next year. Sorry about all those messages. Visit Emory. Katie, Lindsey, and Daisy- Great times during Smetz$. Kilander- Thanks for all the math homework. Sarah- You are the truth. Call me when you're in Georgia. Mo- I mean, honestly. Whitney- Good try in tennis. Mr. Moonves, Mr. Ogden, and Mr. Gettings- Thank you for all being great people and truly influencing my time here. To Everyone Else- Thanks for all the times and enjoy what you got left. You made it a pretty sweet four years.

Chris Chaloux: Yeah, you've prolly been my closest friend at GDA. Last summer's adventures were some really odd and educational times. Some messed up stuff transpired, but I think everything that happened was just another lesson that we have been taught. Always remember that the phone isn't mad at you and you're not stuck on my sea wall. Ari: You're a psycho. Sometimes you're cool, then you go crazy. Everyone knows that, and we all accept you for it. Stay as nutty as you are and you might just make something of it. Dante: You're the nicest person I ever met. Really. I don't even think I've ever heard you insult someone. Keep up the niceties; there aren't enough people in the world like you. Also, thanks for never doing the chem homework; enduring Doc B.'s lectures about "writing it down every time" are always much easier to endure with someone else by my side. Jill: Accelerated Physics would have been psychically impossible (no pun intended) with out you. And your love for Sublime never ceases to amaze me. Keep on rockin, girl! Remember my hiccups. Tory: You were my honorary Ski Club '04 Captain in my mind (despite your injury). You were one of the last people to know what Ski Club truly means and is. No, you may not have a Kip of Soke. Oh yeah, and sorry about your windowsill. Jessie: My first and only real GDA crush (remember freshman year?), you've been a good friend to me through these whole four years. Hanging with you in Spain was definitely a good time, despite my beatings and long lasting scars. May I just poke your nose one last time? BiBi: You came here a little late, but better late than never. You're definitely one of the people here with whom I connect to the most. Photosynthesize, and think about the mountains! Jake Rogers: Don't forget the waffles! You sank my Jenga ship. And there was much rejoicing. Yaaaaay! Honorable Mentions: Cush-the-Man (Cushy), Riley (Pineapple-head), Rutter (Captain), Charlie, Tony (The Kitty-Kat), Colin (The Warm Smell of Colina) and the rest of the Schumann Crew. You guys all need to get more Ritalin, you ADD-festering freaks! Also, shout-outs to all those teachers who influenced me in many ways (and you know you all have, even if you didn't influence me in the way you intended): Stowe (You were an awesomely supportive adviser for a kid as weird as me, thanks for making sure I didn't get kicked out sometime during these past four years), Oggy (Despite the English grades, you're still a stand up guy. Remember my three rules of comedy.), D. Oxton (You've inspired me so much and I could not have made the art I make without your persistent belief that I can always do better.), Hammy (You're one of the only people here who understands my sense of humor, or at least who tolerates it.), Leavitt (You taught me the beauty of math in-between naps.), Doc. Bradley (You're just one of the most wild and crazy guys I've ever met, and I loves ya for it!), and Searles (You were a very good and observant Ski Club leader, too bad I never got to be in one of your classes. Stay prepared.). And to anyone else I missed or just didn't want to put in here: PIECE OUT!

Thanks for helping me through the rough times. It's been an amazing year and I'm really going to miss all our fun times together. Bryson-Four words. South of the Border. Well, you haven't gotten rid of me yet. Jackie-You're always so energetic. I had so much fun in Disney and of course watching Friends. You've truly been an amazing friend to me. Thanks for everything. Stirling/Alex-Thanks for helping me through last year. BB/AW/CC/DR/AM/TM-You guys are hilarious. Thanks for making me laugh and reminding me what women are for. Lax-It's been a great season. Even though we didn't always win, I had a blast. You guys really made my senior spring that much better. Tor-Keep that defense going. Liza-Keep your head up. You're an unbelievable player, always remember that. Fortunes-Thanks for allowing me to invade your house every weekend. You've been like a second family to me. Thanks for everything. Den-What do you say to someone who has affected your life so much? Thanks for teaching me all that you have. This past year has been the best and I'll never forget all the good times we've had. You've changed my life forever. I love you. Everyone else-Everyone here at GDA has made the last year and a half an unbelievable one. Thanks.

Lauren Goglia

Mom and Dad: Thank you so much for everything these past few years, I couldn't have done it without you. Call me any time, and keep an eye on mom and dad for me! I love you! Oli: I don't know what I'd have done without you these past few years. You were always there for me ready with a big hug. You've been such a huge part of my life, and that's never going to change. Next year will be hard but when has it ever been easy for us? Thank you so much for everything, I love you. Tammy: I wish I had known you all 4 years instead of just 1 because we have such a great time together. We're so similar and I don't know what I'd have done without you this year. You always have a way to make me smile and I can't thank you enough for that. Thanks for being a great friend and someone who was always there to talk to. Bryson: I'm glad we finally had classes together this year because I got to know you so much better. Good luck next year and have a good FH season! Ali: Thanks for being a great friend and for coaching me through lacrosse season! Good luck next year, I'll see you back in Andover! Lebor: I was so jealous of you when I met you in preseason your freshman year. Mom and Dad: Looks like all that arguing really did produce a diploma after all. I love you both so much and I can't thank you enough for the opportunities you both have presented me. Jay: Deny it all you will, but you are the reason that I got in here. I will continue to watch you lead by example through my college years. Gettings: Wow Bud, we made it. For three years you have been one of the most influential people in my life and you have left a great mark. As my coach, dorm parent, advisor and, most importantly, friend, you have given me guidance and support. Through thick and thin you were there, I owe this diploma to you. Wotty: I may not be writing this if not for your guidance freshman year, you made me stick with it and I'll never forget that. Kelse: You have taught me more about myself in these past 4 years than anyone. Never has anyone gone so above and beyond for another friend as it seems you have for me. Pats' games, pool cookouts, football parties and the rest can't begin to describe how much you have done for me. I could always go to you with anything, and that is worth far more than any words; you mean so much to me. Oh, and I love Big Rita, Jack and Les. Bear: Jeeeeeeeshus Kharist, we actually survived 4 years in the same dorm. God help your roommate in college, that poor schmuck. Call me up for a Keggah in the old port sometime; we'll grab a canoe and a sandwich from Amato's. Pelletier: Neighbor, I'd say we made it through better than our brothers before us. I'll never forget the England trip, even the parts we can't remember. Ruais: When you become president, don't forget all the handfuls of goldfish and popcorn you talked me off of when it comes time to hand out those cushy Washington jobs. And make sure to give Ryan and Brad a few days head start before you reinstate the draft. Brad: Happy hunting for those southern belles and, for god's sake, stay away from the casinos; you are one terrible poker player. Jessie, Jill, Emily: You three were there when this began, I remember how far I've come, and I hope the three of you do too. Meg O.: Looking back, I wish I hadn't taken this long to get to know you. Bob: I still can't believe they put you in charge of freshmen, god help all of them. Maddie and Lauren: My favorite sophomores. Cottage Boys: I can't think of a better group of guys. To Pat Tillman: You are a selfless, true-blooded American, if only there were more like you. Alright you 'orrible lot, lets get this over with. I wasn't sure what to expect when I got here, but what I got was a bunch of great people who made me feel welcome, and a load of fantastic friends. You guys (all of you) have made my time here a good one, and before this goes any further, I just want to say "Thank you!" Laine: the intense midnight discussions were the best I've had in a long time. Julie: Where's the vodka?!...pop pop ding ding 2-99.... Anjali: Handbag! Anya: stay pink and fuzzy. Katherine: "Rock and pool, is nice and cool..." Erin: Hey! I'll send you twisted jokes, in case you miss me. Ok, basically I suck at this kind of thing. I can't write senior pages, it is now official. Jessie, Sarah, Alex, Garson, Jenna, Taylor, I couldn't think of any classic catch-phrases for you guys, sorry! And if I forgot to mention anyone, it's 4 in the morning right now, so cut me some slack. I'll always remember all of you, whether I've written it down here or not. On that note, let me just check... yup, Chaos, panic and disorder.....my work here is done! English Chris has left the building: Take it easy...

Blaze it in the morning Wear it like an iron skin
Only things worth living for Innocence and magic-amen

Family: My time at GDA has been an interesting period of my life. I have changed a lot and am better for the lessons I have learned on my journey.

We might not have always got along but much thanks to those who helped and supported me along the way. Sarah: Keep working hard, you are way more motivated than I am, and enjoy your senior year. Shmelty: I've really appreciated your friendship, especially this past year. You've always been there for me and it means a lot. You are one of the hardest working people I've met, and this will take you far no matter what you do. Hold it down as proctor next year in the ICC. JR: You're a great friend. Good luck at Conn. College, I'll keep in touch. Geno: No, you don't have to hear my alarm clock every morning next year. Francois: You know how to achieve your goals, enjoy BC. Max: One of the funniest kids I've met. We had a lot of good times in Ingham, probably too many. Beech: Good luck at Wheaton next year, and in life. Gibbie: You're an entertaining kid, have fun in eames. I swear I wasn't watching. Werner: If I hadn't been your lab partner you might have had a chance going to UVA. Ahern: Sometime you gotta empty out all those bottles man. Mr. Suggs: Thanks for being a great advisor, even when I was doing nothing but causing you trouble; I appreciate it. Thanks to the teachers that helped me along the way: Wann, McClain, Doc. B, White, Ruhl, Bao, Seufert, and Bromley.

Woody, Tomaino, Squeaks, Darius, Majed, Dewey, Russo, Garcon, Jill, Joey, Tony, Mic Duds, McCart, Texas, McKenna, and anyone else I forgot good luck in whatever you do. GDA is over before you know it but I sure am ready to go.

Mom & Dad - Thanks for everything you have done, driving me back and forth from GDA, all the insight you have given and for putting up with me. I'll make it up to you. Jen & Jes - Jen, you are the most loving and caring people I know. Jes, "Ms. Popularity," don't let boys get to you; you are so much more fun to be around when you are happy. It is going to be fun out in Western Mass next year. Greg - You are def one of a kind. You are the funniest kid I know. We have to chill a lot this summer. Princess Hannah - You probably don't know it, but you bring the family closer together. Thanks, I couldn't have asked for a better family. Biddy - Thanks for everything you have done for me. You have been a great coach and friend to me. Pete, Libba, & Dennis - Domino Dash. Who thought pissing on a wall would lead to us almost getting arrested and losing Libba's ID. Libba - I can't feel my legs. Down in Denny's cellar. It all started back in middle school when Kel K went to the beach. Pete you are like my twin brother, good luck @ Air Force. Libba - You're my partner in crime kid. This summer should be real fun. ? Never a dull moment. KT - I have taken you to hell and back. I don't know what is going to happen, but you have done so much for me and been there every time I needed you to be. You are very much appreciated. Nick - We have gone from being enemies to best friends. I hope my "bi-polar ness" didn't mess with you too much. This year had been real fun and you have been extremely loyal to me. Thanks for having my back, Good luck @ Syracuse kid. Mikey - You and me have been through a lot of s. You are a great friend. I'm sure we will be seeing a lot of each other next year. Have fun out @ UMass. Remember that time I blocked you're a out. The fall was so much fun, I can't really remember it tho. Ben - You finally made it off my "kill list." I'm glad we were able to become such good friends. Have fun in Medfa, we will have to chill. Your just a bitter, ivy league reject. It will be pretty cool to be a Jumbo. Quinn - Football, Rec Bball, and Lax. I'd say the Govs offense was better than the defense. There is never a dull moment when you are around. TK wasn't too happy about us blazin' in his truck. Good luck at WAC. See ya on the field. Cegs - You are a great kid. Next year should be real fun. Hitz, chilln' in the dorm, rooming together is going to be mad fun. Nico - You're a funny s kid. Mom and Dad - Thank you for everything. I would not of made it this far without both of you always supporting and believing in me. I know it may sometimes seem that I do not appreciate everything you two have done for me, but from the bottom of my heart; thank you and I love you. Chris - You are the best older brother anyone could ever want. You have always been there for me through the good times and bad times. Thank you. John, NJ, Lloyd - My partners in crime. There are too many good memories with you three. The fun hasn't stopped since middle school and I know there are only better times ahead. Thanks for always having my back. Good luck at Springfield. B. Bell - You are another one of the realest kids at GDA. I hope you stop evolving and stay how you are. I knew I could always count on you being there for me. Good luck at Tufts. Bryson - Thanks for everything. I don't know if I would of made it through this year without you. You were a true best friend and one of two females I actually trusted at GDA. As the year quickly begins to wind Down, memories begin to run swiftly through my mind. Each one different, made unique. By all of these people of which I now speak. Kelse and Les—what can I say You two have been the best of friends from the very first day. From getting lost in the woods to grooving before meets. We have accomplished some marvelous feats. Turns you know you rock my face off. And, Keara. at your talent no one can scoff. But that doesn't mean I still won't kick you off the team For making certain comments: you know what I mean. Ottie, your sense of direction may be sub par But as captain next year I know you'll go far. Wicki, in so many ways you are just like me. But, I have no desire someone's female dog to be! Marsh, you introduced us to that yoga pose. And now all the distance girls grab our boobs and shout, "Flamingoes!" K. Corr and Sylie, good luck leading the team next year; Of your awesome captainship I'm sure we will hear. Emello, you'll soon be rewarded By all the hard work your patience has afforded. Coach Kell, you turned out to be quite the gossip this season. If our secrets get out, we'll know the reason! X-C girls—BALLS—I love you all And will miss you so much, come next fall. Moving away from the DRC Here are some others who are special to me: Katherine, Kate, Melissa, and Jen. At concerts beware of the sketchy men. Maura and Laine, the trip to Virginia was 15 hours too far, as you know. Thus into convulsions my body did go. Chris, from across the pond you did come, Spouting off words such as loo and mum. You've taught me much, I hope you know. Hopefully sometime soon to England I'll go. Hillary you need to relax... Life's not about stressing to the max. Sarah, when I walked into physics class it was death Those tedious lectures have left us both out of breath. Anjali you always have a smile on your face; That—paired with your laughter—truly brightened up this place. "Ian is a god," that's all there is to it; And I know, with his help, I'll be able to get through it! Ms. Boulais, Ms. Ruhl, and of course Abu. Without you, what would I do? I could fill your lines with so much stuff. But I think that a simple thank you will be enough. Emma you are more than a friend. You are my sister, and I'll love you till the end. Here are those I couldn't work into verse, If I left you out, myself I would curse: Rachel D., Rachel M., Jessie C., Jessie L. And I can't forget, there's always Ben Bell, Samel, Dante, Mr. Searles. Not to be outdone by the Moody Girls. Mom much love—couldn't have done this without you

Mom and Dad: Mom, you're always able to get stuff out of me that I wasn't planning on saying, and have an often-annoyingly keen sense of me and my friends. I know this is a weird compliment, but it makes you a really good mom. Thanks. Dad, we've had some interesting times on those morning car rides. I've heard way more ragtime and intimate details about engineering than perhaps necessary, but your support during my run-in with the cops made it worth it. I love you both very much, and will miss you lots next year. Jen (Wong): Let's just say I know you a little too well, with all the "things" you've told me this year (many of which I would have been perfectly content not knowing). You've always been there for me when I needed you most (this January), and at the funniest times too (the Donkeys, Coffin Street). Stay sane at Bentley, or, at least, don't go too crazy... Jake: Good times in physics class...sort of. Remember, bunny rabbits are the root of all chaos, and MIT is TIM spelled backwards. I'm glad you actually decided to be social your senior year, because it's been great hanging out with you. Keep up the Autonomous Collective, and enjoy WC. Tech: is your daddy. Hilary: Thanks for being my drama buddy, for sitting next to me in chorus...for being a really good friend. I'm going to miss talking to someone that I have so much in common with. Enjoy your senior year. Charlie: You've single-handedly made the past few months a blast (despite the fact that I've never hung out with you...ever). I'm sending you all my good luck vibes for junior year; you'll need them. ::yearbook poke:: Jen (O'Leary): Congratulations. You have been selected to be on Robin's Yearbook Page. Feel your popularity grow! Seriously, though, the more I've gotten to know you, the more I've realized how awesome you are. Keep it up. Dante: Thanks for getting us out of a bunch of tough spots up in the booth, and not making too many others for us to have to fix. Russell: There will always be a spot for you on my bowling team, unless you decide to pull that "being good" crap again and get another freakishly high score. Katherine and Laine: You've always been there for me when I need advice or a helping hand (or, in Laine's case, an English partner). Katherine, treat my soul well. French Class: Souvenons-nous toujours de Johnny Depp, le subjonctif, et l'homme parfait. Alex Moran: You have the personality I wish I'd had my freshman year. Stick with tech; we need more good female GDA techies. Mr. Ogden: Thank you for genuinely teaching me how to write, and being there for me even after your traumatic and hellish AP English class was over. Keep your fingers crossed that I won't suddenly decide to be come a teacher halfway through college. Joe: No matter how much we've made fun of you, I still appreciate your bad jokes, your random babbling, and the Spanish note on my French exam. GDA tech wouldn't be anywhere close to where it is now without you. Mr. Oxton: You make an awesome advisor. I'll miss the donuts and the pseudo-intellectual conversations (and, okay, the deep talks too). Amrit: You've been such a big part of my time here that this page wouldn't be complete without you. You're amazing. Thank you. Mimi and Papa: I couldn't have gone to GDA, nor would I be able to go to Penn, without your help. I will always love you.

Lindsey Marsh

First off I want to give an honor to God, who has given me the strength to make it through the tough times and always keeping my head held high. I want to give a shout out to my family for putting up with me continually. Mommie, thank you for providing me with love first, using your love to give me everything I needed. Daddy, even though you aren't always here, I know you are cheering for me. To my siblings I love ya'll. Ray if anyone ever asks who your first dependent was, tell them it was me. You always had my back. Shae and Jay thanks for being there for me even if we weren't in the same state. To all my friends back home, thanks for never leaving me or giving up on our friendship. Ya'll keep me grounded. Now for my GDA peoples: Rachel, my roommate for life, I'm going to miss the late night talks and make sure you soak up all that sun for me in Cali. Maura, I told you and everybody else that I was going to make you my friend and I did. Stay close even if I start to fade away and keep me honest. Don't get too wild Anjali! Sarah get crunk! You know! Cass D, this year was different but we'll always be peoples. You are always welcome at my house. To all the Farmhouse girls from my freshman year and this year keep holding it down and make sure you represent Farmhouse well. To all the boys, you know who you are stay good, stay gutter, and never forget where you came from. People change and so did you, whether you accept it or not. Either way thanks for being my friend. "Call me Obe." Yo I'm going to miss your silent honesty. Remember, we need to continue to communicate and never stop dancing. Stay hood. Cassandra you will always be my nieta. Danni keep working it on the dance floor breaking dudes in half and don't ever forget who you truly are. Ana stay cute and stay innocently honest it's not a bad thing. Rina stay strong remember you're beautiful and don't let anyone define this for you. Wil you may have only been here for a minute but you have left an impression on me. Stay true too you because you are a beautiful person. To all the ballaz, of soccer and basketball, play it like you mean it and never let up. Julie hold it down, don't let your temper get the best of you. Lyndsey: "Camper Alert! Camper Alert!" Get Big Daisy! PRIDE keep it interesting, make sure there's a boxing match at least once a year. Ebony saved the best for last. I am so glad we were able to get to know one another. I know the end of the year got real turbulent but it's just a test to the strength of our relationship. I'm going to truly miss the time we spent but I won't and you don't hesitate to holla and don't forget to take care of the "Little Ones." Suggs I can't say enough thanks to truly show my gratitude. I'm happy I came to GDA so I could get to know you. You have been a prevalent force in my life helping with just about everything. My gratitude is never ending. To GDA as a whole, I didn't want to come here, but I am glad I did because ya'll helped make me a strong woman ready to take the world on. Paz.

TBAG 4ever! Melissa: You're so evil! Just kidding. I'll never forget physics class, hockey or the memories. You made both a blast and I'm glad I got to know you (and your family, the cutest ever!). Laine: I admire that you do things your own way and aren't afraid to try something new. Hockey was a blast, torturing Morgan and attacking Jessie. I hope you have tons of fun in England, and I can't wait to visit you for Mardi Gras. Maybe we'll see your butt buddy! Jizzo: Your toes have more strength than I have in my whole body! You were our honorary boarder, sleeping in my bed and using Jessie's lotion. The only problem with GDA is that it was too spread out to burn down in one fire....Just Kidding.

Jessica: Thank you for everything...Hotel Yorba-never have to worry about locking the door, being everywhere on campus, I never liked the rain, all of our car rides, movies, and special dinners.

Thanks to all those who were my friends and helped keep me in line.

Thanks Mom and Dad.

I hope you and Matt don't kill each other down in Atlanta. I'll be down to visit. Timmy- nice life kid. Seriously, you're the man and thanks for being the place we could always go to if we were stuck on campus for a closed night. Try not to kill someone, and you will always be the guy to call if I need to fix something. Sporty- We somehow got through preseason football every year as the two smallest guys on the team. Procrastinating in the weight room sophomore year would not have been the same without you. Thanks for being the one dorm room us guys could go to. Curran- You are one funny kid. Don't do anything too stupid in college (i.e. watch where you pee). You always got stuck driving and paying the most money, but we couldn't have had it any other way. Gloucester Boys- Take it easy. Nicky, I always enjoyed talking to ya these last four years. You're a great guy, Guy. Sayer, I'm sure I'll see ya around this summer. Jarid- Cornell buddy. English would have been boring without ya. Campbell- have fun at Penn St. You are a nasty lax player. Hearty- I was in your room every day freshman year (watching Futurama most of the time). Good times. Katie- stay huge. Please don't beat up Tim at Bates. To the Boston Crew- by far the craziest night of my life. I'll never forget that. I have space left so I'll give some quick shoutouts to some people just in case I am in their pages (and if I'm not then I hope you feel bad...just kidding). Doggett- way to represent the d-line the last 3 years. Don- don't cheat. Pelletier- You belong on the West Coast. Brooks- way to step it up in football this year. Dempsey- the only guy to drop from JV to thirds in three consecutive seasons. Ted- one bitter kid. Thanks for always being there and I'm looking forward to Berlin. To everyone else, nice knowing you, it was a good four years.

Tim Casey

Mom and Dad thank you so much for all of your support over the years. You have done everything for me bending over backwards at times. Thank you very much, I love you guys. Stacey, I have no better friend in the world than you and I mean that. I really wish that you came here to enjoy the experience with me. Please forgive me but I love you Bapi Lee. Tim you are a clown but probably my best friend here. I think you will fit in at Bates with those people. No we haven't had a serious conversation, and yes we are ridiculous. Matt, pimpinator. We have had some great times over the years and done some crazy things I'll never forget. Call me up when you think you can consistently beat me in golf. Elvinson, one of the few people who understands what I'm talkin bout. You truly are a good friend and I hope to hear about you still playing ball at Brown. Andrew what can I say? You make it impossible for me to ever stay in a bad mood. When I come back to GDA everyday once I graduate, hopefully

I'll see you there. Michelle Branch is the best artist of this time. Curran, I just got a new camera so call me when your having your next party. You are one of the funniest people I know. We are lifting at 5 right? Greg you should have gone to BC. We have been good friends and have had good times together. Laughing uncontrollably at the football banquet is definitely a time I won't forget. Christian, I'll come visit you and Matt down at Emory next year if you pay for my plane ticket. We are good friends, I hope we play a few rounds together this summer. Kerri you have been a very loyal and compassionate friend to me. You have been there to talk when I'm down and never fail to make me laugh. I hope that we can continue to be friends, good luck next year. Tom how could I forget sophomore year? First off, as is the wont with these things, I would like to thank my parents for everything they've ever done for me. I love you and I would never have made it through without your help. Grant- Enjoy your next three years and I hope you realize like I did what a great place this is. Kevin- you made the Hawaii trip unforgettable with your great sense of humor. Eat it or wear it! Jen- You've become my best friend over the past year, helping each other through it all. You're a great person, don't ever doubt it, and hope you enjoy being evil at Bentley. We had better keep in contact over the years; it would be a shame if we didn't. Sarah- I doubt I would have made it through junior year nearly as well without you on my side. You helped me more than you'll ever know. We had better keep in touch too, and let me know if you ever need any more CDs. Robin- Red light! We survived AP Physics, an accomplishment thanks to the infamous Elementary Particle Hangman. Maybe we should have been paying more attention to the "I'm not absent-minded, I'm just stupid" teacher. Bunny rabbits are bringing about the destruction of the Universe. Dante- I don't know what specifically to say about you. You're just an overall awesome, wonderful, fantastic guy to know. Frisbee, rock climbing, and Egyptian do stick out in my mind though. Russell- You've been a great friend even though you always beat me rock climbing. Keep reading Dave Barry and I'll keep an eye out for history books with sex scenes for you (James Madison, unable to restrain his passion any longer, thrust his ink-engorged pen into the second draft of the Federalist Papers). Justin- Stinky! Ski Club was great and you'll have to come up to Maine so we can watch Kung Pow! again. Hilary- Have fun senior year and don't take things too seriously; they always come out well in the end. I have faith you'll beat Timmy next year. Andy- You were a great friend sophomore and junior years. Never forget National Talk Like A Pirate Day, ya scurvy-dog. Joe- I win, you're wrong. 100 points for me. Mobo- Where are the Snowdens of yesteryear? I'll always think of you whenever I hear "Ho-ho beriberi." Nils (Jake, Tool)- You've been a good guy to know these past years. Even if you did hit me with your car. We'll have to meet up out on the West Coast sometime. Jen- I expect a film on THE HAWLEY-SMOTU TARIFF in the near future with all the wonderful accomplishments made by women and minorities. And now for something completely different... Oggie (Odgen)- You're probably the worst advisor in terms of getting us food but the best for everything else. You kept everything fun even if our great group did let you down of the "straight A's and no mental problems." And watch out for those bell peppers at HNIB tea, they're wicked spicy. Doc Bradley- I don't know how you've put up with my insane questions every other day for three years now, but thankfully you've always had a satisfactory response. You're a great guy, a great teacher, and I'll miss our chats. Scarlesie- I wish I had been able to be in more of your classes, but it was great while it lasted. I'll always remember the great satire of my dad and me reading "You Are Drunk Mr. Scarles." Ski Club was fun together and I'll have to get you out to the Blue Mountains of Washington sometime in the next four years

Mom: "Mother is the name for God on the lips and hearts of all children." - The Crow You are my everything, I would be nothing without your guidance, love, and inspiration; you have shown me what it is really like to live. Dad: "My father gave me the greatest gift anyone could give another person, he believed in me." - Jim Valvano. I can never thank you for the countless times you have picked me up off of the floor, without you in my life I do not know if I would be half the person I am now, I just hope that I can grow to be everything that you are. Siobhan: "To the world you may be one person, but to one person you may be the world." - Anonymous. Shibs, you have no idea how much you mean to me, you are everything I could ever have wanted in a sister, and more importantly, a friend. I wish that I could be like you in every way possible, no matter what drastic measures you will take to convince me otherwise. I will always look at you the way I did that day on the playground, with awe, admiration, and as the big sister lady who would always be there, looking out for me. I love you with all my heart. Josh: "Be true to yourself, and you will never fall." - Beastie Boys. I have shared some of the best times of my life with you and I am sure those times will continue to roll no matter where we are. You have always been, and always will be, my best friend, and no matter what happens I will always be here for you. Just remember one thing, you are my clone, I own you. Edward: "You don't have to be blood to be family..." - Throwdown. No matter what you do you will always be more than just a friend to me, you will always be my brother. You have always been there for me, even though you are older and "wiser" I seem to end up taking care of you more often, but still I want to thank you for being one of the best people I have ever met, and you will always be the king of the world. Mal, Conor, Triona, Dave, Kate, Loren, Kelsey, Lesley, Christine, Katrina, Adam, Susanna, Meredith, Stephanie, Sam W., Sam M., Will, Scott, Amanda, Katherine, Lindy, Anya, the Duseks, the O'Donnells, Neil, Moira, Joe, Katie, Dante, Ms. Walker, Opie, the Abdullas, Sam: "...I thank your open ears for all their help...I thank your open arms for all their help...Cause I've got no doubt that when my dreams come true. It's because of you and the fact that I let you, and I thank you." - Taproot. I could not have asked for a better group of friends. All of you have stuck by me no matter what situation we find ourselves, and you have given me so many reasons to live and be happy that there would never be enough pages to list them all. Every action has changed me, no matter how big or small it may seem, it is because of all of this that you make me want to be a better person so I can live up to all of you. "The frame looks better all crooked on the wall, it kinda reminds me of the way we are" - Reveille. Always remember, in the immortal words of Bill S. Preston Esquire, and Ted Theodore Logan: "Be excellent to each other." - Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure

Ted Livermore

Family- There is one reason why I have graduated from GDA, and it is because of my mother, father and brother, they have been a constant supporting cast to help me through the tough times that high school can offer. I love them with all my heart and am forever grateful for the experience that they have allowed me to have. D.J- You have been the one constant friend for four years that I could always talk to and count on to be there in any situation, we had our problems but I am a better person for knowing you. P.S I'll be back to dag a few times. Ryan- We missed out on junior year together but our friendship these last few years have been something I'll always remember, especially beating you in Texas Hold'em and always proving you wrong in arguments. Jarid- We've certainly had our share of fun at Corbett's and at my house the arguments we had about economics and much broader subjects will always be fondly remembered, by the way I'm so glad you didn't tell her you loved her. Lesley- God how four years have flied by huh? All of the long runs and hard intervals in snow, rain and the occasional hale will never be forgotten. You have always been the voice of reason when I fly off the handle, always been the person to calm me down, and you will always be the friend I can count on. Kelsey- Even though technically I'm not supposed to like you because of your democrat stature I count you among my best friends, and the memories from track and cross country and all the arguments we've had further reinforce my already high opinion of you as a person. Brad- Before this year we were never really that good of friends but this year between all of our heated discussions in the common room and the hour and a half block of TV we have become really close and I will definitely be getting your email address at Vanderbilt so I can send you all the articles I find that piss me off. Hearty- Hey pal we had a blast in Tenerife and all the parties at Corbett's house have certainly been some highlights of my GDA experience thank you Weir- When I started running for you sophomore year I was ready to quit running because of all the pressure I put on myself, you put the fun back into it that I had taken away, and you made me a better person a long the way Thank You. Mr. Kelly- As an advisor and a coach you were someone I could always count on to help me out when I was down about grades or a bad race. More importantly you helped me through a really tough time at the end of my junior year. Thank you. Abu- If the definition of a coach, teacher or mentor is above all else to make a difference for the better in the life of a student than you have succeeded with flying colors in my case. You were always firm but fair and the love that you engender among your athletes is not happenstance it is because of who you are and it is nothing short of a miracle. thank you for making me a better person. I'm sorry to those that I couldn't fit in because of the restrictions but thank you to some good friends, Salony, Webb, Katherine, Curran, Katie. As always, God Bless Our Troops and God Bless America!

Congratulations to the Class of 2004!

WOMEN'S XC

The Women's Cross Country team completed the fall as New England and ISL Champs with a 13-0 record. Led by captains Kelsey Quigley and Lesley Clunie, the girls were a force to be reckoned with. Newcomers Ania Krzywicki, Caroline Turnbull, and Keara Thomas stepped right onto varsity and helped lead the team to their 4th consecutive undefeated season. Veterans Emily Mello, Kelsey Correia, Caroline Ott, and Hannah Sylvester, along with seniors Lindsey Marsh and Anya Ravitz returned determined and eager to tear up Ingham and their rivals. Freshman standout Thomas blew away the competition and inspired the team as she raced her way to 2 championship titles. Amazing coaching by Abu, Kell, and Olga has been and will continue to be the spirit and driving force behind the team.

Andrew keeps up the pace!

MEN'S XC

The 2003 Men's Cross Country team began the season with high hopes from both the coaches and the runners. Throughout the regular season the team lived up to its expectations and finished with an 11-4 record. In both of the final championship meets, the Governors placed sixth. While this was slightly disappointing, several runners had amazing races. Especially, Andrew Huebner who placed fifth in the New England Championship meet. This season showed how strong the coming years will be because five out of the top seven runners on the team are freshmen or sophomores. Best of luck to next year's team and captains, Andrew Huebner '06 and Zach Couteau '06.

132 FALL SPORTS

The Varsity Field Hockey Team had a great season but finished the fall with a heartbreaking loss to Middlesex in the semi-finals of New England's. The team, which consisted of only 6 varsity returners and 12 newcomers, had tough shoes to fill after last season, and they were deemed the team to beat in 2003. Being faced with this challenge made everyone work that much harder. They started the season strong, experienced a few upsets along the way, and were able to beat Brooks 2-1, after a hard-fought game. Led by their new head coach, Tracy Stickney, they were pushed to a new level in every game. It was a hard-fought season and we wish next year's team the best of luck.

FOOTBALL

Let's Go Gov's!

Brian heads for another touch down!

The Varsity Football Team had an outstanding season. With a senior led team (16 seniors), the Govs destroyed 8 opposing ISL teams, out scoring them on average 39-9. Completing the undefeated season, the Govs matched up with Holderness in the N. E. Class C Championship. They refused to lose and crushed their opponent 34-14. It was a great feeling being able to hold up the trophy and say "CHEERS." The team was hungry for the championship after being kept out of the bowl games the year before. The team was led by a great coaching staff that pushed all year for an elite level performance. The Govs fought hard every game all year. It was a "pain-full" lesson that the rest of the ISL learned first-hand. We would like to thank everyone that supported our team this year and wish the teams to come good-luck.

Ski Club had a rollercoaster of a year in the 2003-2004 season. Starting the season by welcoming back Ski Club alumni, the hard Dick Searles. Ski Club launched into what some would call one of the most trying and difficult seasons in recent history. Under the courageous and unending leadership of Bear Evans and Nills Weedon, we saw another undefeated season, the latest in a series that now holds the Academy's longest running undefeated season, comparable to Women's X-C! Despite several days of negative degree weather and little snow, the team saddled up, headed off, and battled it out with mother nature for the glory of the win and the sense of accomplishment that is always the after taste in a cup of well deserved hot chocolate.

136 WINTER SPORTS

The Girls Varsity Basketball Team had a rough season this year. We played many games well, but for some reason we just could not come out with the win. The highlight - and biggest win - of our season was the Thayer game. On a cold Friday night in January, the Alumni gym was packed with fans. As the final minutes of the game grew near we were losing, but we never gave up. We pushed harder and came out with the win. Julie O'Shaughnessy's three-point shooting was crucial in our ability to win, along with everyone's extra effort. Whether we were winning or losing, there was always someone that was willing to give it their all when they were on the court, even if they were not a starter. With a large number of underclassmen that will be returning next season the future looks bright for this team.

Sayer in a crowd!

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Henry Ford once said, "Life is a series of experiences, each one of which makes us bigger, even though sometimes it is hard to realize this. For the world was built to develop character, and we must learn that the setbacks and griefs which we endure help us in our marching onward." There is no denying it, this year's 10-15 record was a disappointment. We lost 5 heart-breaking losses by 3 points or less. Although there were some disappointing results, the season as a whole was far from disappointing. Some great character was built and there were some lessons learned and memories made that will not soon be forgotten. Coach Metz with his X's and O's work and passion for the game, Coach Kingsbury with his motivational skills, and Coach VanNess with his knowledge of the fundamentals, were all greatly appreciated for their time and dedication. Playing under Metz, Kings and V in a Govs uniform at the Alumni Gym will be sorely missed.

138 WINTER SPORTS

The GDA Women's Varsity Hockey team had one of its best seasons in the schools history, finishing with a record of 15 wins, 6 losses, and 2 ties. After a few wins early in the season, the Gov's faced their first real challenge during the St. Mark's game. The feisty GDA team conquered the Lions in a 2-1 win. A combination of winning six league games and three non-league games before semester break, the season was off to a great start. With the season coming to an end the Gov's faced the undefeated, defending ISL champions, Nobles squad. Everyone came out to play and kept the Bulldogs close with great defensive play. Nobles won the game 2 - 0, the final goal being scored on an open net. We finished the regular season strong and were seeded fourth in the Division II tournament. Ending the season in the first round was tough, but it was an outstanding season all around. The improvement we made over the last few years was unbelievable. Next year we are going to be ready to take on Brooks, and look to raise a banner at GDA.

The team celebrates a goal!

MEN'S HOCKEY

Following a year cut short in the playoffs by Cushing Academy the Governors had a lot to prove in a competitive league. Team Captain Brian McGuirk and determined seniors Brian Gallagher, Don Wieczorek, and Christopher Campbell help lead the Govs to a winning season. Although the team fell short of another playoff birth, the coaches never questioned the attitude and determination of the players. With a couple unfortunate mishaps in the latter stage of the season, the Govs were unable to reach the playoffs. The Governor's program has come a long way and is now seen by everyone in the league as a playoff contender and a dominant force among the ISL. Coach Kravchuk expects nothing less coming from the team next year. With a strong team returning led by Captains Chris Genovese, Kevein Kapstad, Brian Morrissey, and Benn Ferriero, the team will continue their success and look to get deep in the playoffs.

VOLLEYBALL

Lizzy bumps the ball!

The 2003-2004 season was a roller coaster season. It was tough going into it having only four returners and having set high standards from previous years. Tryouts and many practices didn't always seem promising. However, at some point in this season we came together as a team. Due to our hard work and dedication we finished 3rd in the league. Annika Brown, Stirling Winder, Ashley Hamel and Hannah Miner were strong forces in the front middle, while Michelle Kinzie, Lizzy Guyton and Julia McKinnis took care of the outside. Perfect passes were constantly received from Anjali Ajaikumar and Young-Jee Kim to setters Emily Moore, Devyn DiFronzo and Jess Hewins. At the end of the season, MVP went to Emily Moore, MIP went to Jess Hewins and the Coach's award went to Ashley Hamel. Thank you all for a great year! To the returners: "Think big, believe big, and the results will be big!" - Love, your captains, Emily Moore and Michelle Kinzie.

WRESTLING

This wrestling season began with only 4 returning lettermen and only 6 people who had ever stepped on a wrestling mat. During the season, all 1st year wrestlers seriously improved into solid wrestlers, and our veteran wrestlers became some of the top wrestlers in their weight class. At the Graves-Kelsey tournament the team finished 9th in the league, a vast improvement from 14th place the year before. The Govs received the Heb Evans Award for most improved team in the tournament. Three wrestlers placed in the Graves-Kelsey tournament: Ryan Becker got 4th at the 119 lb. weight class, Andrew Guyton got 3rd at the 171 lb. weight class, and Tim Mauritz got 3rd at 189 lb. weight. GDA was represented by 4 wrestlers at the Prep School New England tournament. Ryan Becker, Andrew Guyton, Tim Mauritz, and freshman 1st year wrestler Ben Cutrell at 215 lb. weight class. Captains next year are Ryan Becker and Andrew Guyton.

MARTIAL ARTS

Lauren prepares for her next move.

Levi watches an exciting spar!

Kung Fu is about more than just being Jackie Chan's or Bruce Lee's next incarnation, and it's about more than being able to jump 6 feet in the air and kick a hole through a brick wall. It's about having your mind and your body work in unison to accomplish something. In the few short weeks we spent learning this martial art, we barely scratched the surface of what there is to know. We can't stroll onto a movie-set and wipe out a horde of henchmen using nothing but our bare hands and lightning reflexes, but what we have learned is that for those who are willing to try it, the benefits of Kung Fu are a lot more far-reaching than just looking cool.

This past winter was our best season yet! The amount of effort and hard work the girls put into dance each and every day was amazing. This year's final performance was a great way to show the different skill levels and it displayed how each and every dancer excelled in her own unique way. The energy and enthusiasm that the girls put into the show really made it come alive and kept the audience on their toes! We are very thankful for our teachers Susan Atwood and Christina Dee for all of their hard work and long hours. We could not have done any of this without them. Good luck to Jen next year at school and get ready for next season! We keep on getting bigger and better! Great season girls!

SOFTBALL

The 3 seniors on the varsity softball team this year could not have asked for a better way to end their careers at GDA than with this past spring season. After starting out very strong, we encountered some adversity when we had 2 losses in a row to St. Marks and Milton. We bounced back quickly with 7 straight wins, with some highlights being a 4-1 win over Nobles, and 15 runs against Middlesex in 5 innings. The only other loss was our last game against Brooks, but it was definitely not due to a lack of effort or talent. With only 3 seniors, the younger girls played crucial roles on the team. Next year's team will be led by Erin Connors and Emilie Arthur. Good luck!

The men's varsity lacrosse squad came out to a great 7-1 start. During the middle of the season the Red Dogs faced the beef of the ISL. In the final games the Dogs went 1-6. The Dogs played very tough games against Phillips Exeter, St. Pauls, St. Sebastians and Thayer. WOMEN'S TRACK

This year's track season was a very short, yet a successful one. The team was led by 7 seniors, including captains Jessie Long, Kelsey Quigley, and Jackie Ward. The girls placed 2nd overall in the ISL's. Jessie Long walked away with field MVP for the 3rd year in a row as she broke her own discus and shotput records this season. The girls then placed 3rd in New England's. Leslie Clunie and Anya Ravitz both ran very well the whole season. Jackie Ward placed 3rd in discus and 4th in javelin. Up-and-coming freshman sensation Keara Thomas came out strong with a two 2nd places and a 3rd place in the 800 m. As coach Weir said, "This is an outstanding group that will not be forgotten easily."

This year's team had a really fun season. Joining last year's returning players Katherine Paul, Sarah LeBlanc, Ruth Splaine, and Becky Rochel were several new players: junior Meg Owen, sophomore Hannah Miner, and freshmen Lily Osowski and Rachel Stavis. It was clear at the beginning of the season that it was not going to be easy, as the top 4 players from the previous year had graduated. The season still had many high points, such as Katherine and Becky's matches at number one doubles and Meg's long singles matches. A goal for our team from the beginning of the season was to improve every week, and everyone did this, especially Hannah, whose improvements could be seen every day. With only two players graduating this year, the team has a good future in front of it.

The Golf team had a very successful season, finishing 3rd in the league, just behind Belmont Hill and Nobles. The team was a bit inexperienced, after losing many top players to graduation last year. The team was led by senior captain Don Wieczorek, who simply grinded it out all year long. Matt Reason played consistently at the number 2 spot, and won the majority of his matches. Jason Sport, also a senior, battled hard for crucial points, and shot a respectable 89 in the ISL Championship. Brian Gallagher intimidated many en route to racking up numerous wins. Christian Smith's greatest victory came against St. Sebastian's. Zack Richards and Daniel Lundquist, both sophomores with a lot of potential, were integral members of the team and will be co-captains next year. David Shack played in several matches and will be an effective contributor next year. The team proved to be a better match-play team than metal-team. They were unable to reclaim the Witherspoon Cup and placed 8th in the ISL Championship.

MORSE FLAG

The Morse Flag was first awarded at the 150th Commencement of this School on June 9, 1913, and it has been awarded each year since that time to the senior whose record in all respects has met with the highest approval of the faculty. According to the Trust established by the late Rev. Glenn Tilley Morse, a long-time friend and Trustee of the Academy, a new flag is provided each year in order that the old flag, which has flown over the School during the past year, may be given to a member of the graduating class.

She has a strong sense of herself that is grounded in her faith. She possesses impeccable standards, deep impassion and the wisdom of a tribal elder. She pursues a wide range of interests and with each and every challenge, demonstrates the intellect, commitment, and self-discipline necessary to achieve her own exceptional standard. Throughout her four-year career, her teachers have used numerous superlatives to describe her academic performance. She has been praised for her diligent work ethic, impressive command of subject matter and meticulous and conscientious approach to all of her studies. She is articulate in all forms of expression and her unique insights regularly are augmented by a witty and gracious sense of humor. Her writing has captivated her teachers who commended her for her ability to sweep them along in a current of ideas. Last year, her US History thesis paper earned a grade of A from the National Writing Board. This young woman understands the importance of service to others. She has served as a Peer Advisor for two years and performed this role with her empathy and discretion. This year she initiated a program between GDA and Hospice to train student volunteers to work with terminally ill patients. Her association with Hospice of the North Shore has been tireless and highly effective. She was recently honored by the National Hospice Organization as the 2004 Teen recipient of the Volunteers are the Foundation of Hospice Award. Somehow, she finds time to cultivate her considerable musical and athletic talents. She has engaged in demanding vocal training programs at Berklee College of Music and at Wellesley College. During her sophomore, junior and senior years, she produced and performed in concerts that entertained and impressed our community. She designated her past two concerts as benefits for Hospice of the North Shore Children's Program. Whether it is volunteering to sing in church, performing the national anthem at sporting events or serving as the opening act in a benefit concert, her participation always makes the event special. As an athlete, she is a serious competitor who pushes herself to the next level. She served as a co-captain for the women's cross-country team that has been undefeated for four consecutive seasons. She is an intellectual, a runner, a singer and a humanitarian, a genuine homegrown GDA treasure both literally and figuratively and a true love of life.

It is with tremendous respect, admiration and gratitude that the 2004 Morse Flag is presented to:

Kelsey Michaela Quigley

THORNDIKE HILTON CUP

The Thorndike Hilton Cup was established by the Class of 1919 in memory of their classmates, Thorndike Hilton. It is awarded each year to the ranking scholar in the senior class.

While so many features about this young woman define her, including her superior scholarship; her keen mind; her eloquent writing and her self-deprecating humor, it is her confidence that makes her unique. Mistaken as shy or reserved by the vast majority of the community, except for those who have had the pleasure to share the classroom or the stage with her, this young woman exudes a startlingly sure approach to challenges, regardless of their arena. Her thought process seems palpable even before the problem has fully revealed itself, and armed with only a pencil or perhaps a lowly set of nail clippers, this young MacGyver in our community fashions exquisite solutions to academic or technical quandaries. Her slate of courses for senior year included four advanced placement courses in Calculus, English, Physics and French and somewhere in addition to earning a virtually perfect grade point average in each of these courses, she found time to complete her fourth year of orchestra and chorus, to reign as proctor in the PAC, and to serve as Concert Master. While five years ago this Renaissance woman ended her application to Governor Dummer by presciently noting, "there aren't enough hours in the day for me to do everything that I would like," we applaud everything that she has done!

The highest-ranking scholar of the class of 2004 is:

Robin Whitney Havener

ACADEMY PRIZE

There are two prizes which are awarded by vote of the entire faculty: One is the Morse Flag; the other, The Academy Prize. Upon retirement of Headmaster Ted Eames in 1959 the underclassmen of the Academy endowed the already existing Academy Prize so that henceforth at each commencement it could be given in honor of Edward W. and Eleanor K. Eames so that the qualities they so deeply prized might be prized in turn by future and succeeding classes. Those visiting the Phillips Building will find inscribed on the plaques, in the entry-way of the Cobb Room, the names of all Morse Flag winners, reaching back to 1913, and the winners of this Academy Prize from 1931.

She is not one to draw attention to herself yet her presence has left an indelible imprint on this community. Academically, she has earned the reputation as a serious student committed to improvement for learning's sake. She is never one to say "that's good enough" but rather "I can do better". She has the self-discipline motivation and drive to use her limited free time in the pursuit of this goal. It would be hard to imagine a better role model for the younger students in her dorm. She takes very seriously her duties as a proctor and is committed to the care and support of her younger peers. Her thoughtfulness, maturity, sense of responsibility, playfulness and humility combine to make for a highly respected and effective student leader. She has a vast reservoir of strength, both physical and inner. An accomplished three-sport athlete, she has distinguished herself as a captain, performer on New England Championship teams and as a holder of numerous school track and field records. The Boston Globe has acknowledged her considerable abilities with All Scholastic Sports recognition. Her talents extend far beyond the playing fields. She has earned a prestigious Boston Globe Gold Key award for her artwork. She has graced the stage of the Performing Arts Center as a declaimer in the Frederick Douglass competition or as a soloist in the Gospel Choir. She has delivered eloquent and moving chapel talks. Indeed, all that she does, whether it be as a Head Tour Guide, a member of the Discipline Committee, a Co-President of Pride or as a contributor to numerous community outreach programs, rings of her spirit, dignity and courage.

It is with pride and admiration that the faculty presents this year's Academy Prize to:

Jessica Rose Long

PETER BRAGDON HEADMASTER'S CUP

The Headmaster's Cup is given to that senior who, in the judgment of the Headmaster, has best served the mission of the School.

Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote, "Character is higher than intellect". How refreshing it is to encounter an individual who is an accomplished scholar and whose personal integrity shines brightly for all to see. The winner of the Headmaster's Cup arrived at Governor Dummer Academy with high ideals. He has lived those ideals for four years. None of the myriad of aliments and anxieties of adolescence seems to affect him. He defies all odds and modern conventions and dances through his days with grace and style. He remains untarnished by the cynicism and negativity that are part of youth culture, part of our larger culture. From the soccer field, to the tech booth, to the choral stage, to the track, his enthusiasm is visible and boundless; his sincerity is palpable. He sees the world with clear, compassionate and respectful eyes. By being who he is, our honoree offers advice and instruction by example. His being declares, "This is how to live joyously and unabashed." Within him we see the good resonate with intensity, unimpeded by ego and selfishness. He has shown us his path to inner peace and fulfillment. He invites us to follow our own.

It is with respect and pride that we award the Peter Bragdon Headmaster's Cup to:

PETER MARSHALL FRENCH MEMORIAL TROPHY

The French Memorial Trophy has been given by his sister in loving memory of Peter Marshall French. It is inscribed each year with the name of a student at any level whose perseverance, sportsmanship and generous spirit on the playing field, represents the highest standards of committed participation and fair play.

The Palestra in Philadelphia, one of the nation's storied basketball venues, has a small plaque in its front lobby that, in a few words, sums up what amateur athletics ought to be about: To play the game is great. To win the game is greater. But to love the game is the greatest of all. This year's recipient plays for the love and not the glory of sport. He has participated on GDA athletic teams every season for four consecutive years. Whether he was on the field or watching from the sidelines, he always contributed to his team; he worked tirelessly to be the best athlete and the best teammate he could be. There were some seasons, on some squads, where his expectations for playing time were minimal yet he would come to practice, day in and day out, cheerfully doing whatever his coaches required of him. The repetition of daily drills or the drudgery of long bus rides never dampened his enthusiasm. More than most, he embraced the purity of being a member of a team.

Gregory Matthew Ceglarski

BARRISKILL PRIZE

Established in 1960 by the students of Governor Dummer Academy to honor the memory of faculty member James M. Barriskill, this prize is awarded annually to that member of the senior class who has made an outstanding contribution in the field of music at the Academy.

The recipient of this year's Barriskill Prize has shined brightly as a performer for the past four years. This student's vocal talents are truly impressive; her ability to sing classical, Broadway, pop, jazz, and everything in between demonstrates a remarkable range of talent. She has been active in The Academy Singers, The First, The Nightingales, and has appeared in numerous musicals and voice concerts. With all of her ability, however, she is the antithesis of the modern day diva; one who demands center stage attention. She is more than willing to share that spotlight with others. She has served as a confidant and mentor for younger musicians. She demonstrates artistic poise, seriousness of purpose and creative musicality far beyond her years. You can regularly find her in the Performing Arts Center rehearsing well into the late evening hours in order to perfect her craft. As this year's student director of the Voice Concerts, she increased participation in these performances, and encouraged students of all ability levels to share their talents with the wider community. She is a gifted musician, an exemplary leader, and kind and respectful individual.

Jillian M. Vavlitis

MERCER ART PRIZE

In 1982 Kittie and Tom Mercer made possible the Mercer Art Prize as a means for recognizing talent and performance in the field of art. It sets a demanding standard: Exceptional creativity and originality by a senior who has earned honor grades in all available Studio Art and Art History courses along with intentional efforts to achieve artistic awareness and proficiency.

This student defined himself from the beginning of his stay at GDA as one of the Academy's most talented and gifted artists. His deft hands, discerning eye and creative imagination have distinguished him in the ceramics studio where he has created numerous distinctive and graceful forms in clay. He has totally immersed himself in his work and these efforts have culminated in an impressive portfolio of work for his Advanced Placement Ceramics course. This impressive body of work speaks to his passion, sensitivity and exceptional skill. One of his more noteworthy creations is a successfully constructed gigantic coiled vase. He has carved into the surface of this three-dimensional form a series of Egyptian hieroglyphics, which tell a unique story.

THESPIAN AWARD

The Thespian Award was created in 1971. It is awarded for meritorious work in the field of dramatics, for inspiring participation, for providing leadership and developing theatrical knowledge and abilities.

This year's recipient of the Thespian Award has a unique perspective in the theater. As an actress, she knows about the pressure of auditioning for a part, memorizing a script, mastering a choreographed dance routine and reacting to a sound cue. She also has experienced the stage from the director's chair; assuaging the concerns of temperamental actors and actresses, coping with technical glitches and adjusting the myriad of complications that randomly surface in the course of a production. Her approach to all of these challenges has been characterized by equanimity and grace. She is willing to put herself and her creativity on the line. The playwright David Mamet spoke to these qualities when he said, "The simple performance of the great deed, onstage or off, is called 'heroism.'" The person who will not be swayed, who perseveres no matter what- that hero has the capacity to inspire us, to suggest that we reexamine our self-imposed limitations and try again."(p.13 True and False, 1997). This year's honoree has performed heroically in this sense, effectively advancing the dramatic arts at Governor Dummer Academy.

Erin Katherine Giblin

EDWARD J. RYBICKI PRIZE

The Edward J. Rybicki Prize is named for and awarded in memory of the long—time GDA teacher and advisor to the Governor who embodied the qualities of selflessness, sense of humor, responsibility to the welfare of others and the courage to live by a strong set of personal beliefs. This prize is awarded to the student making the greatest positive contribution to the school newspaper, The Governor over the past academic year.

For the second consecutive year, the Governor has set records for the number of editions published. More importantly; the quality of this journal continues to improve. Like all good newspapers, coverage has ranged from the controversial to the comical, from the artistic to the athletic, from serious topics to playful trivia. The editors have shown remarkable dedication and perseverance. Neither equipment failures, late articles, nor drooping eyelids have deterred them in their quest for excellence. The results of their efforts have been celebrated by the New England Scholastic Press Forum which awarded the paper three accolades at its annual meeting. This year's recipient of the Rybicki Prize was always on duty, sacrificing study and social time to master the art of layout and formatting and all the while honing her management and writing skills. With her co-editor, she has created a school newspaper which is vibrant, fun, informative and interesting.

Katherine E. Russell

GOODWIN ATHLETIC PRIZE

The Goodwin Athletic Prize, established by Mr. Fred H. Goodwin of the Class of 1916, a Trustee of the Academy from 1916 to 1949, is given to that senior boy who, by his athletic achievement and sportsmanship, has brought the greatest honor to his school during the past year.

The philosopher Anatole France said "to accomplish great things we must dream as well as act". This year's honoree arrived at GDA three years ago of average stature and unheralded as an athlete. However, he aspired to athletic excellence so he devised and adhered to a rigorous strength and conditioning plan to achieve this objective. He has been spectacularly successful in this quest, winning numerous individual accolades and bringing considerable honor to the Academy. He was a fearsome defender in football. His memorable fourth quarter tackle in the Holderness game soundly reversed the contest's momentum and guaranteed the Governors the New England Championship. His record setting performance in the recent New England Track Championships earned him the Most Valuable Competitor of the Meet distinction and helped to propel his squad to the overall team title. Captain of two sports, winner of All- League Honors, holder of numerous school and New England track records, this quiet and humble young man has proved unequivocally that one can achieve their dreams and ambitions through hard work and commitment

Robert Joseph Francois

ANNE MARIE MURPHY ATHLETIC AWARD

The Anne Marie Murphy Athletic Award is given annually at Commencement time to that senior girl who, by her example and her achievement in athletics, has brought the greatest honor to her school during the past year.

Noted philosopher, basketball player and sports commentator Julius Erving, Dr. J. once said "Being a professional is doing the things you love to do on the days when you don't feel like doing them". It would be hard to determine if this year's honoree ever experienced a day of malaise on the athletic field. One of her coaches summed up this player's career succinctly, "she works hard, plays hard and loves every minute of the experience". And what a career she has fashioned. Nine varsity letters in three years, All League recognition in three of those seasons, and breaking the century mark in the number of lacrosse goals scored. The agility, vision, skill and natural ability that she brings to all of her athletic undertakings is exceeded only by her commitment to sportsmanship and fair play.

Moira Anne Talbot

CUMMINGS PRIZE

The Cummings Prize was established by the family and friends of the late Fred Cummings of New Hampshire. It is awarded annually to a student who has shown perseverance, hard work and good spirit in contributing to the welfare of the School.

This year's recipient of the Cummings Prize presents a unique balance between good-natured perseverance and commitment to the values of the Academy. His teachers tell me he is an electrifying contributor to who can buoy class discussions. His coaches praise his contributions and leadership on the athletic fields. His strong voice and independent viewpoint, as a student on the Academy's disciplinary committee, has also served us all and has provided wise direction that belies his age and position here on campus. Whether mowing the Academy's grass during the summer months, or untangling tricky disciplinary issues involving his peers, he has provided a superb example of the good spirit and hard-work that truly benefits the entire community. It is easy to see where his commitment comes from because after all, Governor Dummer Academy is not just his school, it is also his home

Andrew deCoursey Doggett

GAFFNEY PRIZE

The Gaffney Prize, established in memory of Robert A. Gaffney of the Class of 1940 is awarded to that senior who, in the opinion of the faculty, has been most considerate of the rights, opinions and sensibilities of others.

He entered GDA with deep values and high ideals. He has tried to incorporate these principals into every aspect of his daily life. His inherent kindness and sensitivity make everyone who comes in contact with him feel comfortable and affirmed. He is bright and engaging but not afraid to ask the questions one else dares to raise. He has been a trusted and responsible proctor. He is perhaps best known for his service to others through his efforts as the Student Director of the Massachusetts Special Olympics and as the co-chairman of the fundraiser "Soups On". Both of these projects required an extraordinary level of organizational acumen, diligence, attention to detail and highly advanced people skills. His impact for good in the GDA community and beyond has been considerable.

Brad Scott Ferry

SARAH ELLEN AVALON AWARD

The Sarah Ellen Avalon Award is awarded to that senior who through hard work, determination and strength of character, has worked to develop his or her potential to the fullest and in so doing, has been a true credit to Governor Dummer Academy. This award carries a stipend to aid in buying books for college.

She is a loyal friend who quietly deflects attention, accolades and praise to others. She is a determined and devoted student who inspires her classmates with her diligence. Her firm moral convictions, sincerity and high character have made her an effective and respected dorm proctor. Her teammates recognize and appreciate the quiet strength of her presence on their squads. She has led teams to New England championships with the power of her foot, the accuracy of her jump shot and the determination of her spirit. Teachers love to teach her. Coaches love to coach her. Dorm parents love to have her under their roof. Gently and steadily she has enriched our school

Kathleen Anne Glynn

WILKIE SERVICE AWARD

The Wilkie Service Award, named in honor of Valleau and Marjorie Wilkie, is awarded to a senior whose contributions to the community outside the Academy best demonstrate the deep concern and the unfailing sympathy for others, for which the Wilkie Headmastership is notably remembered.

Early one Wednesday morning during the fall of 2000, this young woman, then a mere freshman stood in the front of Moseley Chapel to tell the story of a family whose children were stricken with a degenerative nerve disease. They needed a special van, and she enlisted the support of the GDA community to help them acquire such a vehicle. Her efforts ultimately proved successful. Her GDA career has been defined by noble and unselfish service to others. She is the force behind Project Outreach. She co-directed this year's Fall Soccer Tournament of Special Olympics. She has gotten friends to help in off-campus Special Olympics tournaments. She has run clothing drives and book drives and holiday drives. She has taught sign language to faculty children, opening their eyes to different worlds. She has worked with children with special needs in her hometown. She is not only their mentor and cheerleader, but she shares our community with them by inviting them to the Academy to visit her or to attend campus performances. She has a unique gift that will be wonderfully utilized as she pursues a career as a special needs educator.

Julie Ann Benjamin

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION AWARD

The Alumni and Alumnae Association Award is given to a senior who has shown community spirit and concern within the Academy and has displayed qualities of awareness and humanity.

The recipient of this award has been an outstanding member of her class for the past four years. With her upbeat sense of humor and her natural ebullience, her presence has energized this community. Her involvement in school activities has been exceptional: she earned varsity letters in four sports; field hockey, basketball, softball, and track; she has held significant leadership positions with Special Olympics and the Tour Guides; her objectivity and wisdom were very much in evidence when she functioned as a member of the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee; she has held significant roles with the Anti-Defamation League, Red Key, Furthermore, she has not allowed these significant involvements in the co-curricular life of the Academy detract from or compromise her academic work. There is nothing calculating, self-serving or pretentious about anything she does. She puts her heart and soul into every endeavor. She has been a force for good.

Jacqueline Marie Ward

SPECIAL PRIZES

Milton L. Dodge of Newburyport was a member of the Class of 1911, father of an alumnus, devoted friend and neighbor of Headmaster Edward W. Eames and a generous benefactor of the Academy. He made provisions in his will to provide for prizes to be awarded to members of the Governor Dummer Senior Class whose perseverance, courage, initiative, sense of responsibility, loyalty, and concern for others have contributed to the strength of the Academy.

This young woman is a perceptive observer of the human condition and her wit, enthusiasm and humor brings a special spirit and energy to all of her endeavors. Her self-knowledge and self-confidence sustain her and help her to lead a life of balance. She is not reluctant to take risks to broaden her horizons and she has demonstrated the courage to break with tradition in order to explore her new, diverse interests. She has demonstrated creativity as an artist and as a musician. Her leadership in women's soccer and ice hockey has been strong and steady. She has brought curiosity, insight and wisdom to her classes. She has been the effective behind-the-scenes producer of this year's chapel program. Her intelligence, compassion and integrity have made her an essential part of this community for four years.

Kerri Lee O'Neill

He has been an outstanding member of his class from the day he first arrived in South Byfield. He has excelled academically, on the athletic field, in the photography studio and in the dormitory. Always earnest, engaged and curious in the classroom, he has consistently performed in the high honors range. As a mainstay of two varsity teams, his contributions were critical to the teams' successes. Many of his award-winning images have graced the student newspaper, various school publications and personal scrapbooks. He has forged a unique bond with his charges in Phillips providing them with sound guidance and good counsel.

Donald Matthew Wieczorek

Kind, compassionate, responsible, gracious, hardworking, cheerful, unassuming, curious - these words are apt descriptions of this young woman who has been a member of our community for four years. She has contributed with her mind, her heart, and her spirit, yet has done so in a quiet, behind-the-scenes way. Whether competing on many J.V. teams, playing in the orchestra, writing for the Governor, participating in Harvard Model Congress, or just being a good friend, she has flourished here, while still giving unselfishly to others. The quality of our collective experience at GDA has been better because of her presence here.

EDITOR'S CLOSE

Here's to the crazy one's-the misfits-the rebels...the trouble makers-the round heads in square holes.

To the one's that see things differently. They're not fond of rules.

You can quote them-Glorify or vilify them.

The only thing you can't do is ignore them because they change things-They push the human race forward.

And while some may see them as crazy-I see brilliance.

Because the people who are crazy enough to think they can change the world are generally the ones that do.

In reviewing the countless happening over the past four years, it is impossible to package the GDA experience into a perfectly shaped box and tie it with a flawless bow. To do that, would require something as impossible as getting an A on every late night AP paper written for Mr. Ogden junior year or maintaining perfect attendance for every morning meeting. Life is messy, it's full of ups and downs, turns and bumps, it's filled with would haves and could haves as well as countless near misses and of course the occasional busts. Nevertheless, we managed to make it through; all of our strengths and differences have united us as one. Each of us now has the same hope, promise, and potential for a bright future. That is the package.

Of course, no package is complete without all of the decorative accoutrements. We hope this book portrays them in all of their glory. From the Ingham and Eames boys caroling at Christmas to Mr. Gettings stellar performance as calculator man—we owe endless thanks to all of you for helping us make memories. Thank you to everyone who took photos (well at least most of the photos), wrote articles, designed pages, and so much more. It would be impossible to thank you all individually, but we hope you know and realize how grateful we are to you and the great amount of appreciation we have.

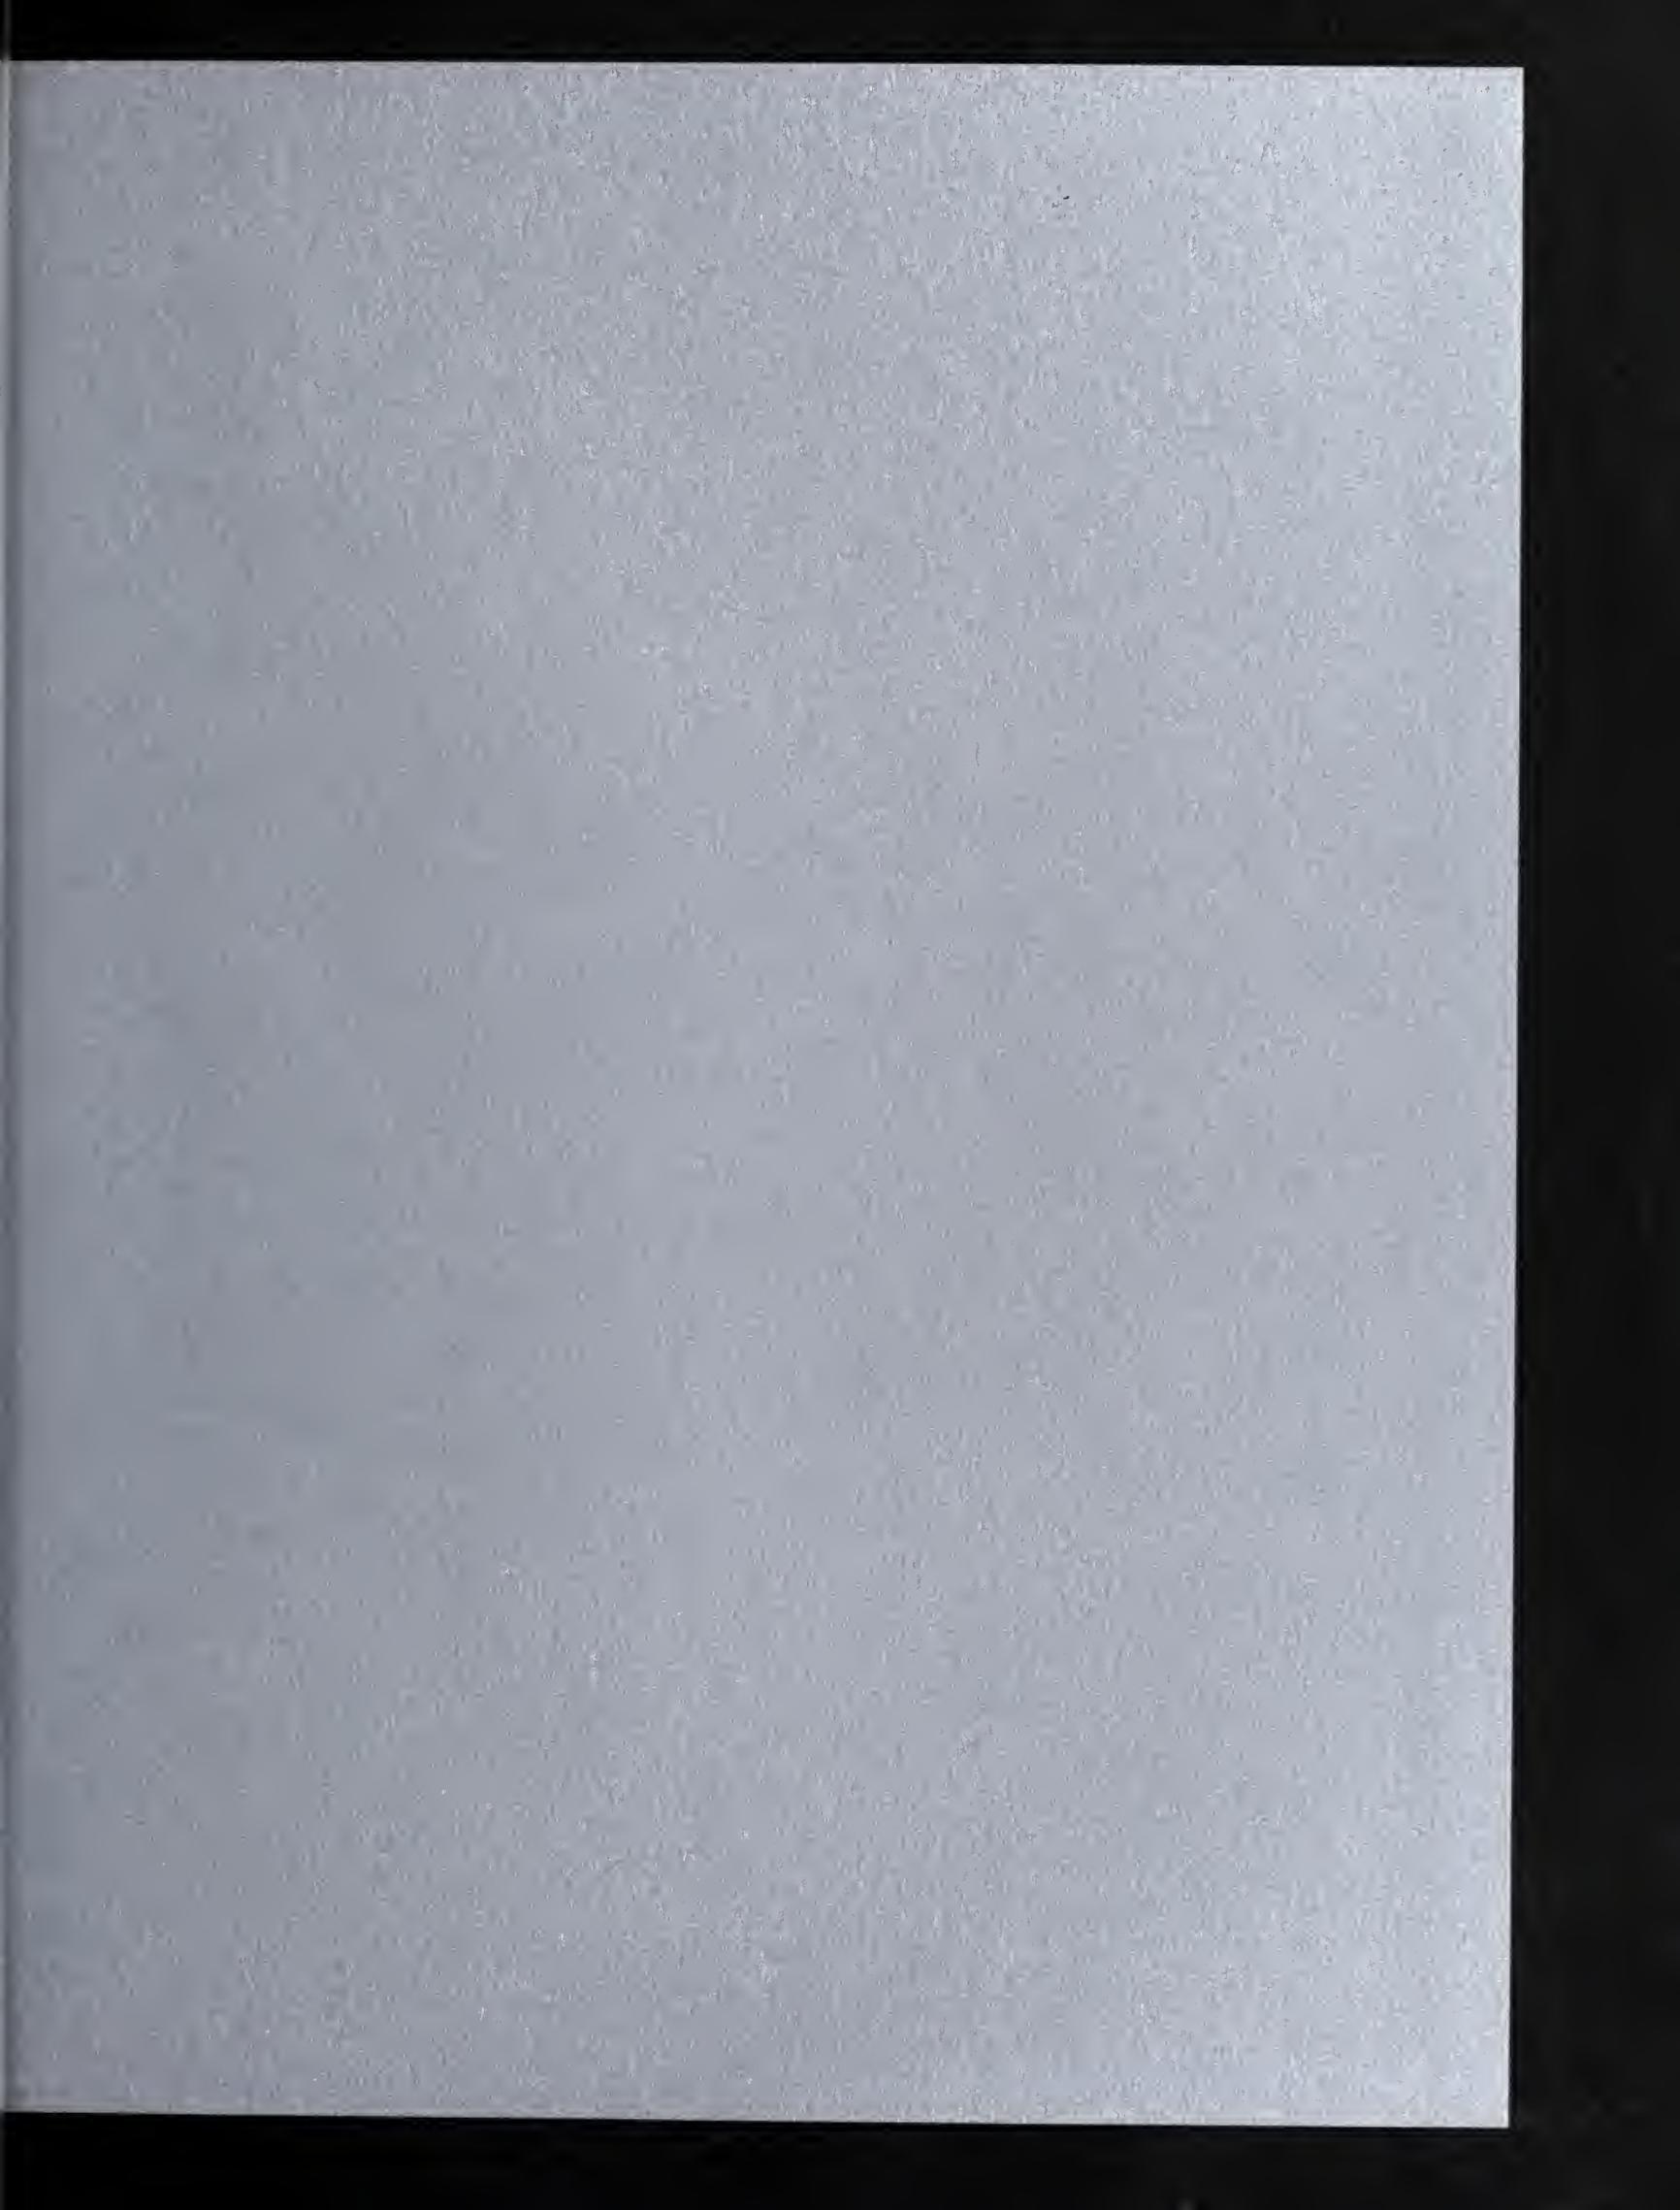

So, with every close there's always an opening- so here's to the close of an amazing four years and the opening of an even more amazing four to come.

KEEP ON ROCKIN'

ALWAYS,
STIRLING AND ALEX
